Immanuel Christian Library

Feature this week

“The Cost of Discipleship” was written by a young Lutheran pastor named Dietrich Bonhoeffer, who joined the underground resistance in World War II, convinced that it was his duty to work towards Hitler’s defeat. He was only 39 when he died, but he had already made a monumental contribution to Christian thought, which had a profound significance for both theologian and layman. He writes: “Cheap grace is the grace we bestow on ourselves...the preaching of forgiveness without requiring repentance, baptism without church discipline, communion without confession.”

He also writes: “Costly grace is the gospel which must be sought again and again, the gift which must be asked for, the door at which man must knock.”

The London Times Literary said of the book: “A rigorously patient exposition of the Sermon which compels the reader to face himself... A very moving book.”

The menu was barbecued chicken, red potato salad (with hard-boiled egg, diced celery, and olives), cole slaw (with mandarin oranges, glazed walnuts, and creamy Vidalia onion vinaigrette), and barbecued baked beans (with sauteed onions). Volunteers who cooked, set up, served, and cleaned up were: Patricia Carson, Marilyn Maass, Gary Winslow, Al and Bobbi Loukas, Fran Sihvola, Cliff and Kay Moore, Joe Lipocky, Andy West, Carol Hughes, Patty Brookshire, Stephanie Brookshire, Ruth Ann and Vince Katilius, Rachel Balbicka and Chuck Sista, Shane Cook, Marlu Gluckman, and Judith Holley.

We also want to thank Panera Bakery and Sorbara's Market Square for their continuing donations of breads and sweets; and we are grateful for the financial support of Thrivent Financial. The congregation of Immanuel has been very supportive of this ministry, giving of your time and financial resources to ensure it success. Come visit one of our suppers, so you can see what a difference you are making in the lives of those who grace our tables. If you know someone who is unemployed, underemployed, alone, on a fixed income -- anyone who could use a meal and some fine company -- bring them along. Supper is served from 4:30 to 5:30 Sunday afternoons.

Coffee Fellowship

Coffee and treats last Sunday were provided by Rhody Smith, Bea Ruby, and Judith Holley. Please sign up to make coffee at least one Sunday this year, and treats are always welcome. Take advantage of the social time, by joining friends at the picnic tables or just hanging out on the veranda.
